This new application is for a(n)

(check one applicable item below)

- ☒ Original (nonprovisional)
☐ Design
☐ Plant

WARNING: Do not use this transmittal for a completion in the U.S. of an International Application under 35 U.S.C. § 371(c)(4), unless the International Application is being filed as a divisional, continuation or continuation-in-part application.

WARNING: Do not use this transmittal for the filing of a provisional application.

NOTE: If one of the following 3 items apply, then complete and attach ADDED PAGES FOR NEW APPLICATION TRANSMITTAL WHERE BENEFIT OF A PRIOR U.S. APPLICATION CLAIMED and a NOTIFICATION IN PARENT APPLICATION OF THE FILING OF THIS CONTINUATION APPLICATION.

- ☐ Divisional.
☐ Continuation.
☐ Continuation-in-part (C-I-P).

2. Benefit of Prior U.S. Application(s) (35 U.S.C. §§ 119(e), 120, or 121)

NOTE: A nonprovisional application may claim an invention disclosed in one or more prior filed copending nonprovisional applications or copending international applications designating the United States of America. In order for a nonprovisional application to claim the benefit of a prior filed copending nonprovisional application or copending international application designating the United States of America, each prior application must name as an inventor at least one inventor named in the later filed nonprovisional application and disclose the named inventor's invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed nonprovisional application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. § 112. Each prior application must also be:

(i) An international application entitled to a filing date in accordance with PCT Article 11 and designating the United States of America; or

(ii) Complete as set forth in § 1.51(b); or

(iii) Entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) or § 1.53(d) and include the basic filing fee set forth in § 1.16; or

(iv) Entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) and have paid therein the processing and retention fee set forth in § 1.21(f) within the time period set forth in § 1.53(f).

37 C.F.R. § 1.78(a)(1).

NOTE: If the new application being transmitted is a divisional, continuation or a continuation-in-part of a parent case, or where the parent case is an International Application which designated the U.S., or benefit of a prior provisional application is claimed, then check the following item and complete and attach ADDED PAGES FOR NEW APPLICATION TRANSMITTAL WHERE BENEFIT OF PRIOR U.S. APPLICATION(S) CLAIMED.

WARNING: If an application claims the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121 or 365(c), the 20-year term of that application will be based upon the filing date of the earliest U.S. application that the application makes reference to under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121 or 365(c). (35 U.S.C. § 154(a)(2) does not take into account, for the determination of the patent term, any application on which priority is claimed under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119, 365(a) or 365(b).) For a c-i-p application, applicant should review whether any claim in the patent that will issue is supported by an earlier application and, if not, the applicant should consider canceling the reference to the earlier filed application. The term of a patent is not based on a claim-by-claim approach. See Notice of April 14, 1995, 60 Fed. Reg. 20,195, at 20,205.

(New Application Transmittal [4-1]—page 2 of 11)

WARNING: When the last day of pendency of a provisional application falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, any nonprovisional application claiming benefit of the provisional application must be filed prior to the Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. See 37 C.F.R. § 1.78(a)(3).

5. Declaration or oath (including power of attorney)

NOTE: A newly executed declaration is not required in a continuation or divisional application provided that the prior nonprovisional application contained a declaration as required, the application being filed is by all or fewer than all the inventors named in the prior application, there is no new matter in the application being filed, and a copy of the executed declaration filed in the prior application (showing the signature or an indication thereon that it was signed) is submitted. The copy must be accompanied by a statement requesting deletion of the names of person(s) who are not inventors of the application being filed. If the declaration in the prior application was filed under § 1.47, then a copy of that declaration must be filed accompanied by a copy of the decision granting § 1.47 status or, if a nonsigning person under § 1.47 has subsequently joined in a prior application, then a copy of the subsequently executed declaration must be filed. See 37 C.F.R. §§ 1.63(d)(1)-(3).

NOTE: A declaration filed to complete an application must be executed, identify the specification to which it is directed, identify each inventor by full name including family name and at least one given name, without abbreviation together with any other given name or initial, and the residence, post office address and country or citizenship of each inventor, and state whether the inventor is a sole or joint inventor. 37 C.F.R. § 1.63(a)(1)-(4).

NOTE: "The inventorship of a nonprovisional application is that inventorship set forth in the oath or declaration as prescribed by § 1.62, except as provided for in § 1.53(d)(4) and § 1.63(d). If an oath or declaration as prescribed by § 1.63 is not filed during the pendency of a nonprovisional application, the inventorship is that inventorship set forth in the application papers filed pursuant to § 1.53(b), unless a petition under this paragraph accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i) is filed supplying or changing the name or names of the inventor or inventors." 37 C.F.R. § 1.41(a)(1).

Status as a small entity in one application or patent does not affect any other application or patent, including applications or patents which are directly or indirectly dependent upon the application or patent in which the status has been established. The refiling of an application under § 1.53 as a continuation, division, or continuation-in-part (including a continued prosecution application under § 1.53(d)), or the filing of a reissue application requires a new determination as to continued entitlement to small entity status for the continuing or reissue application. A nonprovisional application claiming benefit under 35 U.S.C. § 119(e), 120, 121, or 365(c) of a prior application, or a reissue application may rely on a statement filed in the prior application or in the patent if the nonprovisional application or the reissue application includes a reference to the statement in the prior application or in the patent or includes a copy of the statement in the prior application or in the patent and status as a small entity is still proper and desired. NOTE: 37 C.F.R. § 1.28(b) requires "Notification of any change in status resulting in loss of entitlement to small entity status must be filed in the application . . . prior to paying, or at the time of paying, . . . the issue fee. . . ." From the wording of 37 C.F.R. § 1.28(b), (a) notification of change of status must be made even if the fee is paid as "other than a small entity" and (b) no notification is required if the change is to another small entity.

BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION

The present invention relates to electrical contacts in general, and more particularly to an electrical female socket contact that mates with a male pin contact to provide a sacrificial make-first/break-last contact arrangement for use in a "hot pluggable" electrical contact configuration.

There is a need for electrical contacts that can be connected and disconnected under an electrical load i.e., "hot pluggable" and at the same time have the capability of accommodating axial misalignment of pin and socket electrical contacts. Furthermore, the socket contact should be able to provide arc receiving "sacrificial" portions to maintain electrical integrity of the fully mated pin and socket contacts while at the same time being able to mate with a low insertion force.

It is accordingly a general object of the invention to fulfill this need.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION

A low insertion force electrical socket contact employs a plurality of inwardly extending projections that function as arc receiving elements upon the initial mating of the socket contact with a corresponding male pin contact. The distance between the inwardly extending arc receiving elements measured across the socket contact bore is greater than the maximum transverse distance of the male pin contact. Further insertion mating of the male pin contact establishes electrical contact with a plurality of integrally formed spring contacts in the socket contact.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE DRAWINGS

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Turning now to the drawings, and particularly to Figure 1, there is shown an electrical socket contact indicated generally by the reference numeral 10. The socket contact 10 preferably is stamped and rolled into the configuration shown in Figure 1 from a single sheet of material. The socket contact 10 has at least two inwardly projecting arc receiving elements 12 (one of which is shown in split form as 12a and 12b in Figure 1 because of the preferred stamped and rolled socket contact embodiment). It should be noted that the inwardly extending arc receiving elements 12 can take the form of an inwardly extending stamped "dimple" as shown in Figures 2,4 and 5. The arc receiving elements 12 typically establish an initial electrical contact with a corresponding male pin contact (not shown and depending upon mis-alignment of the male pin contact with the socket contact 10) and a subsequent last contact upon mating withdrawal ("make first/break-last"). The arc receiving elements 12 are spaced apart across the bore axis of the socket contact at a maximum distance that is greater than the maximum transverse distance of the male pin contact. This spacial configuration permits the initial contact mating of the arc receiving elements 12 to function as "sacrificial" elements while the fully mated male/female electrical contact is established by a plurality of integrally formed spring contacts 14 which thus maintain their electrical and physical integrity. It should be noted that the forward portions 14a of the spring contacts 14 cooperate with arc receiving elements 12, and the forward end 13 of the socket barrel itself to provide a "triple" arc receiving entrance for the male pin contact(not shown). Assuming enough axial mis-alignment, this would take place sequentially,as the socket contact ring 13, the arc receiving projections 12 and the forward end of the cantilevered beams 14 (see Figures 2-5)

Preferably, the socket contact 10 has an opening 16 to its bore that provides a "solder pot" for soldering an electrical cable (not shown) to the contact. In addition to providing a "solder pot", the opening 16 also furnishes a gas pressure relief during the solder operation. It will be appreciated that if the socket contact 10 is used as a "crimp" contact for an electrical cable, opening 16 limits the travel distance of crimp deformation.

In addition to the optional "solder pot" opening 16, the socket contact 10 has an optional spring housing latch 18 for removable insertion into a contact housing (not shown) in a conventional manner.

Having described in detail a preferred embodiment of our invention, it will be apparent to those in the art that numerous modifications can be made therein without departing from the scope of the invention as defined in the following claims.

What we claim is:

1. An electrical socket contact for mating with a pin contact comprising:

an electrically conductive barrel body having a pin contact engaging axial bore having:

at least two integrally formed, pin contact arc receiving elements upon disconnection of the mating pin and socket contacts; and,

a plurality of integrally formed, cantilevered spring contacts, said pin contact arc receiving elements having a pin contact engaging surface positioned at a maximum distance from the socket contact bore axis that is greater than the maximum transverse dimension of the pin contact.

2. The electrical socket contact of claim 1 further having an aperture forming a solder pot in conjunction with the bore of said barrel body.

3. The electrical socket contact of claim 1 wherein said arc receiving elements comprise stamped inwardly extending projections.

4. The electrical socket contact of claim 1 wherein said socket contact is formed from a single sheet of material.

5. The electrical socket contact of claim 1 wherein engagement
